Project Green AV Cautions Against “Green AV” Hoax

Project Green AV alerts users to the spread of a computer virus named Green AV. The virus name stands for “Green Antivirus,” a hoax that masquerades as free anti-virus software. Project Green AV reminds all users to steer clear of it and to take extra measures to be certain of the security of items they download to their computers.

Project Green AV is in no way affiliated with or affected by the Green Antivirus hoax. All links and all materials accessed on Project Green AV are checked before and after they are posted. Project Green AV, a resource for the audio visual industry, is a secure site and a safe place for research and communication about news, trends and information relevant to the Green Audio Visual industry.

The visual similarities between the hoax Green Antivirus Software logo and the Project Green AV logo are unlawful and constitute infringement on the part of the persons involved in spreading the unlawful software. In no way do the visual similarities between our logo and theirs constitute a relationship, implied or actual, between Project Green AV and the originators of the rogue Green Antivirus software.
